ALBERT A. ANGLACE

REMEMBERING AL

Al Anglace was one of the best men I have ever known...in which group I include my own father. Although he was a few years younger than I, he was like a father to me, a mentor, a pal, an exemplar. In the early days of the Travelers, he was a beacon of generosity, of caring and concern for shooters less capable than himself -- by which I mean, me. In later years, when I couldn't keep up with the group any longer, Al never forgot me. He was one of the kindest men in the world. I am devastated by his passing. We will remember him always.

-- Jim Coyne

Having known Al from the beginning of our group and getting his sales pitch on the new sport while shooting....skeet.... I can without reservation say that he contributed more to our sport than anyone I know. He was truly an innovator, ambassador, and advocate for sporting throughout out his life. Hopefully we can keep the momentum going without the leadership and inspiration of our "benevolent dictator".

-- Don Hutchinson

Heartfelt Condolences to the Anglace family. Al will be missed by all of us. We are thankful to have known him and will never forget this very special man. Rest in Peace Dear Friend.

-- John Hachmann

Al Anglace, there will never be another like you , an inspiration to the sporting clay's world that will never be equaled. I will miss you old friend and you and your family will always be in our prayers.

--Steve Middleditch

With great sadness, Al Anglace has passed away. a very good friend of over 20 years. He was "El Presidente" and co-founder of the Connecticut Travelers Sporting Clay Association. I met Al at the 604 shooter DU shoot at La Roue du Roy in 1989. For many years, he had me come down to CTSCA shoots all over New England as a guest before I became a member. We shared a good number of contraband Super Partagas during those "Traveler Tough" targets that made us all better shooters. I will always cherish the plaque he gave me about having to adapt to the bird dog and not the other way around (it is on the wall in the family room) and the leather two cigar holder which I will now always carry at shoots as a reminder of his influence.

He is missed by all who have known him.
-- Henry S. F. Nachaj

Al was a great friend, mentor and coach who promoted sporting clays and introduced many a new shooter to our game. Today the world is a little less bright.

Our thoughts and prayers go out to the Anglace family. Your loss is our loss as well.
-- Ed Davies

So very sad to lose one of the truly great men in the game. He may not have been a national champion and sadly many shooters today don't really know who he was but when Sporting Clays was just a passing thought to most people he was there to build the game and welcome any and all who wanted to share the experience.
-- Donna Galotto

I am so sorry to here about Al, he and the Travelers are inseparable for me, he is encompasses all we see as the image of our organization.
-- Derek Moore

We are so saddened to hear of Al's passing. He was such a terrific, organized, enthusiastic individual. A great shooter, friend, coach, entertainer and great doer of all things related to the shooting world. We will never see the likes of him or his gift award prizes again!
-- Dom Russello and Sally Parris

One of Al's greatest joys was introducing a new shooter, especially a junior, to the sport. When I started shooting clays (and was well past the junior stage), no one made me feel more welcome. And when I last shot with him, no one was prouder of the limited strides I had made.

-- Bob Schragger

We are sorry to hear about Al. It is hard to think of the Travelers without thinking of Al being there. In my mind they were one and the same.

-- Jim Hunter

There is nothing I can say more than what you all have said for this great man. He was a Dad to me. A surrogate for another great man of very similar background and lineage. As I am a middle aged smart-ass, know-it-all, he helped with the final steps of my maturity.

-- Art Tonucci

On behalf of the Seymour Fish and Game Club, I would like to extend our deepest sympathy to the entire Anglace family. Not only did we loose our President, but a great friend. Not much more can be said that has not already been said in these posts. Al will be missed. Our thoughts and prayers are with you all.

-- Dwight Wildman, V.P. Seymour Fish and Game Club

Al was a true gentleman . He will be missed by all that knew him .

-- Steve Monti

Al Anglace was an innovator to the sport of sporting clays, a good friend, and mentor. He emphasized the social aspects of shooting and fostered the passion in many young people. A fierce competitor in his own right, I remember him recounting stories of competing week in and week out with Andy Duffy when as Andy was coming into his own. We will miss you El Jefe, but your spirit lives on and will never be forgotten.

-- Jeff Hunter

Al was a great person and I know he will be missed by everyone who knew him. My heart goes out to his family for their loss and to all the rest of us for ours. It was a honor to call him my friend.

-- Dom Uliano

Sorry to read of Al's passing. In the Midwest during the late 1980's and early 1990's we knew him as the father of New England Sporting Clays. Andy, Charles, Bernie, etc., all spoke highly of him. I believe I first met Al at Okemo Mountain or maybe Missouri at the USSCA Nationals held north of KC. He was, as others have said, very supportive of the game and wingshooting in general. When I think of Al, I think of the Traveler's and SKAT. Talking grouse, dogs and quality target presentations. "The Travelers" had a reputation for throwing great targets and having a good time. My thoughts are with his family and friends, he IS an Icon.

-- Tom Ruck

Al was a very special mentor and friend to both Debbe and myself.. he embodied good sportsmanship, generosity, and kindness....the memories are many, and will be cherished.

-- Lans Christensen

Occasionally, just occasionally one has a chance to meet someone who really lives up to term character. Having strong character, acting with character or just plain having character in the most respectful definition, Al was all that. From the classic Roman profile to omnipresent oversized cigar, nothing was average about this man. The lessons he taught me none will know or understand but him and me. Al spoke to all but made you feel as if it was you in particular that was his focus. The legacy he leaves stands strong, sure the CT Travelers that's part of it but the sons and daughters the grandchildren and hundreds if not thousands of shooters who owe much more then will ever know to "the MAN" that was Al Anglace. I'll miss you my friend.

-- Bruce Galotto

Yes...the world does not shine as bright with the passing of Al. He was quite a "Class Act" and always made me laugh and always asked why I always seemed to shoot with other "Italians"...he would always call my group the "Italian Battalion"! Dean, I'm sure you will miss having such a wonderful dad and I am very sorry for your loss. He will always be remembered as a man of honor and integrity and in this world...that is the best we can ever strive for.

--John Siciliano

Haven't shot with the Travelers in a few years. He was good guy and and always a gentleman.

--Charley Troy

Al was truly a gentleman. Always had a warm smile and supportive words. Honesty, integrity and honor were his hallmarks. Al will be missed but will always be remembered fondly. Dean, please accept condolences from our Rock Mountain family to yours. You are in our thoughts and prayers.

-- Mike Koneski

Al will be missed by so many of us whose lives he touched with his friendship and mentoring. It was important to Al to get women involved in shooting. So many of us associate guns with crime and violence, and Al felt that if he could get women to enjoy shooting sports, they would in turn involve their children in shooting.

For Al, getting children into shooting would ensure the future of the sport he loved. So Al was a great mentor to women and children. Any youngster could shoot with the Travelers at no cost and be provided with free ammo as well. I think there are a great many women and children who enjoy clay target shooting as a result of Al's mentoring. I am one of them.

Al greatly encouraged beginning shooters. When I first joined the Travelers he would schedule special small group clinics for beginners. I think they cost around $5 a session and the instructors were very fine shooters. Where does one get instruction for that price these days? He also instituted a policy where if you needed help and asked him, he would squad you with a mentor at a Travelers shoot who was an advanced shooter and who would shoot the tournament with you coaching you at every station.

Al was not only the founder of the Travelers but he was instrumental in the formation of the Georgia Social Shooting Club and would schedule joint shooting trips with them for the Travelers. He also was the instigator for the Great Eastern Lobster Classic that is held at Addieville each year. It was Al's idea to institute a major tournament that would not cost a tremendous amount to enter. He got Geoff Gaebe at Addieville to agree and offered to have the members of the Travelers act as referees to keep the entry price low. Many of us served as referees that first year having gone through some rigorous training in the rule book by Bruce Galotto. This was my first experience as a referee, and I have never forgotten what a difficult demanding job it was. Ever since I have had great respect for all refs. Of course, the Lobster Classic became a huge success and is now a national shoot with many big name sponsors but that first year it was the Travelers who sponsored it and made it happen along with Addieville.

I have an image of Al up in heaven, shotgun in hand, cigar in mouth, shooting a round of sporting with his pals Geoff Gaebe and John DeVito. RIP Al. We all miss you.
